HyperMotion Technology focuses on players' individual skills, pacing, acceleration, intensity, quickness and speed. It also measures distance moved, tackles made, player actions and training intensity. "From the outset, we wanted to set the new benchmark in accuracy with HyperMotion Technology to provide the most realistic and authentic player movements within the game," said David Rutter, FIFA's Head of Sports Technology. "We're excited to have FIFA 22 players be the first group to experience this technological leap, with new gameplay features including the most detailed goalkeepers and full-bodied players, as well as a new sprinting/jumping system that sets a new standard for player locomotion." Player performance and locomotion has been further enhanced in FIFA 22 via Real Player Motion, taking on-field animation to a new level. FIFA 22 continues to offer a deep arsenal of new sports gaming features, giving you unprecedented control over your player's footwork, direction, and ball control. New Features

New Player Avatar: A new animated player avatar in the form of a generic player was added to the Stadium Creator, which allows you to create your own team from a single or a pool of players.

Reactive Cover: The player will react in real time to one of his defensive teammates' pressure and improve his speed, acceleration and speed. You can also create your own reactive covers.

FIFA 22 introduces a new sprinting system for players. On-field animation has been improved to reflect players' movements and actions in a more realistic way. A new kicking animation system has been designed to give players more character. This system is focused on footwork, speed and direction. FIFA 22 introduces more variations of the run and pass, adding greater variety. A new dribbling animation system has been designed to reflect the specific needs of dribblers and their teammates on the pitch.

New Abilities: Ranking system: A unique ranking system for the players has been implemented for the first time in FIFA, allowing players to climb through different ranks, in a similar way to professional athletes. The rankings of the players are dynamic and depend on the FIFA platform used, your achievements in the game, and, for offline mode, your personal ranking.

Real Player Motion: A new on-field animation engine has been developed to Trade and manage your Ultimate Team of more than 300 superstars, with a vast catalogue of unique items, each with its own unique abilities, and customise your players and control them on the pitch. FUT Draft – Draft and build the ultimate squad from the top Global Leagues, Champions League, and more. Choose from real-world footballers, including top stars like Lionel Messi or Cristiano Ronaldo. Go head-to-head with your friends in the new full-featured FUT Leagues and Conferences. Create the ultimate team of real-world footballers by drafting and trading to improve your squad. Player Impact – Real-world movement allows every decision to be 100% impactful, without sacrifices in control, and enhanced ball-awareness improves decision making and reactions. Refereeing – A new gameplay system allows referees to grant penalties and red cards at crucial moments of games, and save player potential fouls. Safeties – Narrow players and defenders are now better at finding space before a shot is taken. Dribbling – New dribbling animations and controls allow for greater depth of control while dribbling, with more options to beat the defender and deliver a shot with more accuracy. World Football – “With FIFA World, you can experience all the excitement of a FIFA match from a variety of viewpoints, and work your way through the game to earn awards for your winning performances. “There are new World Class stadiums like Tottenham’s new White Hart Lane, and the revamped Anfield Stadium where you can create an immersive matchday experience at the likes of Manchester United, Liverpool, Arsenal, and more. “New gameplay mechanics help you progress through the game, whilst a deep Career Mode means that you can experience the thrill of a manager or a player for yourself, while new tools such as Transfer Market give you more ways to make your team better. “FIFA World offers players a FIFA experience like never before, with the broadest portfolio of licensed leagues on any video game platform, and provides fans with a year of FIFA content to enjoy.” This set looks... lackluster. Some of the new stadiums are great but a lot of them are just going to be used for loading screens. My new New York stadium looks and plays like a glorified practice field, my new English Premier league stadium looks and plays like a glorified residential area, my new Australian W-League
